

The Niagara Dental Hygienists' Society,
is honoured to present:

Dr. Jim Hyland B.Sc., DDS

The Oral Systemic Link, New Diagnostic Assessments And Techniques To Control Periodontal Disease

Dr. Hyland's seminar focuses on KISS techniques to control periodontal disease for 90% of your patients in 2-4 weeks predictably, even guaranteed! If 75% of our patients have periodontal disease (tissues that bleed when touched) then our treatments do not work! Dr. Hyland's potpourri of new diagnostic techniques, motivational communication with clients, unique home care instructions, non-surgical treatment options combined with re-evaluations ensure that patients will have a healthy biofilm and a stable oral environment. Dr. Hygienist, as Jim is called, will discuss the latest research on the oral systemic connection showing causal links with high risk periodontal pathogens and atherosclerosis, Alzheimer's, certain cancers and rheumatoid arthritis. Learn how to use this information to transform your practice from scale, polish and bill to motivate/inspire, treat the cause of infections not the symptoms and predictably get your patients healthy, both oral and systemically.

Dr. Jim Hyland graduated from the University of Toronto ('72 BSc, '76 DDS) and opened his own dental practice. Determined to provide the best possible dental care and advice to his patients, Dr. Jim became an early adopter of new treatments, monitoring and implementing the latest research and techniques in oral care. He is a 42 year member of the ODA and CDA.

Dr. Jim, also known as Dr. Hygienist, has been a teacher at the U of T Faculty of Dentistry, Seneca College and George Brown College and was on staff at the North York Hospital. He lectures internationally and writes on a variety of topics related to the link between our oral wellness/overall health, diagnostic, interceptive and non-surgical periodontal care.

Respected for his professionalism and dedication to the dental profession, Dr. Jim has served on numerous boards and committees of his local society for more than three decades, serving two terms as president. In 2008, he co-founded OraVital Inc. to provide dental and medical practitioners with the most advanced and effective non-surgical solutions available for detecting and treating gum disease and bad breath. His goal is to help dental professionals effectively and predictably control periodontal disease.
